

March 2013

To whom it may concern

Interpath (manufacturer of Sashas Blend™ and Trovet Mobility) adheres to all strict international conservation requirements and has full Convention of International Trade in Endangered Species (CITES) certificates to verify.

Interpath is an exceptionally ethical and environmentally conscious company that is committed to the preservation of the environment. Interpath applies strict process to its raw materials sourcing. It engages directly with its suppliers and government agencies to ensure ethical procedures are followed and that guidelines are applied and met. Interpath conducts stringent testing on all raw materials and takes great pride in its quality systems that ensure all ingredients are compliant with international regulations and come with appropriate certification.

Ingredients are primarily sourced from Australia and New Zealand where there is confidence in the integrity of the industry and the strength of government regulations and monitoring.

Corina Bright
General Manager